Employees treated unfairly?

Tammy Jackson
Staff Reporter

Employees of the City of Pahokee resent the fact that one full-time city employee is receiving free rent and free utilities, and they are not able to do the same. Employees have been addressing their dissatisfaction with members of the council and the mayor, and the commission met to resolve the matter Tuesday evening.

Art Ivester, superintendent of the cemetery, is an employee with the City of Pahokee, and because of his duties, Mr. Ivester lives at the cemetery. He has lived at the cemetery for 17 years. According to the commission, "he is receiving an extra benefit" just by not having to pay living expenses.

Mayor Horta told Mr. Ivester that he was receiving benefits from the city that other employees were not receiving.

Mayor Horta told the commission that he felt that Mr. Ivester should be responsible for half of the utilities at the home, and he should pay the city $150 per month rent.

"After 17 years of living at the cemetery, you're still not going to want to really do it (live at the cemetery)," said Mr. Ivester.

Mr. Ivester said that he didn't know which employees were complaining about his situation but if they knew all of the extra duties that he had, maybe they would understand his situation.

Mr. Schenk told the commission that Mr. Ivester was receiving a good benefit, but it was a great benefit to the city for him to be at the cemetery.

At the conclusion of the special workshop meeting, commissioners decided that Mr. Ivester be responsible for half of the utilities, and follow IRS procedures for taxes on the home.

The latest style in haircuts, at least at Glades Day School, is "the buzz." The football team has shaved their heads in a tradition that goes back about 10 years. When the team is headed for state, out comes the clippers. Shown is Jeff Goodale, RB/DB for the Gators.

Gang told to "straighten up or face prosecution"

Brenda Bunting
SUN Editor

A gang of young men known as the "Solo Boys" are accused of doing thousands of dollars of damage at Palm Glades Apartment Complex on South Main Street, Belle Glade.

Apartment Manager Gregg Jenner circulated a flyer in the complex Monday morning offering a reward for information.

"Your community is being vandalized and we want your help," he said in the flyer. "We are prepared to file criminal suits against the members of this group and their parents, and we would ask anyone who may have more information about the actions of this group to come forward."

"This is your home and you deserve to live in a nice place. These acts of vandalism and graffiti are not only hurting your community, but, it is also destroying your home," he told the residents.

He was overwhelmed by the response from the tenants. "My phone rang all day," he said.

The boys were identified and Jenner said he had the accused and their parents in his office on Tuesday.

He said the boys were rude and surly but they understand that he will prosecute them if the vandalism continues.

Damage to the laundry room and the fitness center caused Jenner to temporarily close both facilities.

"They have also taken it upon themselves to spray paint all over our buildings and sidewalks," Jenner said.

Jenner said he believes the problem has been taken care of, for now, but if problems continue, he will prosecute.

Cooperative considering ending negotiations

Unless the federal government backs off from a plan to return the Everglades Agricultural Area Area to wetlands, Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative in Belle Glade may end ongoing talks.

Officials with the Cooperative learned of a recent internal memorandum from Dick Ring, superintendent of Everglades National Park to George Frampton, under-secretary of Interior that states one of the system-wide objectives for the South Florida ecosystem is to return "all former wetlands, including the entire Everglades Agricultural Area to full wetland ecosystem function."

The Cooperative is deeply concerned about these kind of objectives for Florida, says George H. Wedgworth, president.

"While we have been negotiating in good faith for an Everglades mediated settlement, the federal government has shown its true intentions in this latest report," he said. "Further, our attorneys have filed a Freedom of Information request for a copy of this report as well as the interagency agreement dated Sept. 23, 1993 from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. These documents should be made publicly available prior to the public hearings scheduled to begin Dec. 6.

"We have notified Sen. Bob Graham about our concerns and have asked him to make these documents public prior to the public hearings and to provide an explanation as to this change in policy at the Federal level."

"We had great hopes that Everglades restoration could be achieved while maintaining a viable agricultural industry in the Everglades Agricultural Area," Mr. Wedgworth said. "But these federal government objectives work against any kind of reasonable Everglades settlement. At this time, due to the duplicitous behavior on the part of the federal government, it does not seem prudent to continue negotiating with the federal government unless they repudiate these announced objectives."

Over 1,000 needy to be served by Glades "Holiday Store"

Organizers need donations of household items

Brenda Bunting
SUN Editor

Needy families in the Glades will have a brighter Christmas this year, thanks to the efforts of many local clubs and organizations.

The Glades Holiday Store, planned for mid-December at the Belle Glade Armory, will let indigent parents pick out their Christmas in dignity. The "store," now in its second year, is organized by members of the Palm Beach County Health Department Auxiliary. The concept was to allow needy families one place to go during the Christmas season to get help.

Before, various service organizations and governmental agencies were giving out food and clothing. This way, there is little or no duplication of service. Last year, 300 families, consisting of about 1,000 individuals, were helped.

HRS handles all the referrals from various agencies and clients are given a day and time to come in and "shop" for Christmas. The original concept for the store was presented last year by Maria Wise Miller, who was the coordinator for the Auxiliary.

Auxiliary President Betty Nelson said donations of food and household items are still needed for the store.

Anne Hopkins, director of the local American Red Cross office said anyone who can donate sheets, towels, toys, or other new or slightly used items should call her at 992-9703.

Palm Glades security guard rescues child from under wheel of school bus

By Brenda Bunting
SUN Editor

A 5-year-old boy who said he didn't want to live any longer wedged himself under the wheels of a school bus last Thursday morning at the Palm Glades Apartment Complex and waited to die. Just before the bus took off, an alert security guard pulled the child out from under the wheel.

Captain James Earl Jones, supervisor of security for the complex, said he was patrolling the school bus loading zone in a golf cart about 7:45 that morning when he saw the child under the wheel.

He said he jumped out the cart and jerked the boy from under the wheel just before the driver started to move.

"There was a lot of confusion and kids on the bus were yelling, so the bus driver didn't know what was happening," said Jones.

The youngster, who attends Glades View Elementary, told Jones he didn't want to live because recently another boy had jumped on him and beat him.

"I told him that was not a good reason to kill himself," said Jones. "I later found out who the other boy was and had a talk with him."

Jones said both boys are about the same age and size.

"I received a big hug around my waist from that kid, letting me know how much my being there for him meant to him. I love all the kids. It made me feel real good to be in the right place at the right time," said Jones. "I must admit that I did go home and get a good night's rest, knowing I was able to save that kid's life."

Capt. Jones has been a security guard at Palm Glades, located on South Main Street, Belle Glade, for two years. He was promoted to supervisor this past June. The security company he works for is U.S. K-9 Security.

Jones said he has heard he is to be given a plaque by the security company.

"I just feel that I came to work and did the job I'm paid to do. I see myself as security for Palm Glades, then when I get home, I see myself as security for my family," he said.

Modern hero...Capt. James Jones saved the life of a young boy by pulling him out from under the wheel of a school bus just before it moved. He says he was "just doing his job." SUNPHOTO by Brenda Bunting

Program donates vouchers to Alzheimer's Day Care participants

The Palm Beach County Community Action Program presented nine vouchers for turkeys to the families present for the first annual Thanksgiving luncheon sponsored by the Alzheimer's Association's Specialized Alzheimer's Day Care Program in Pahokee on Friday, Nov. 19. The vouchers, made possible by an agreement between WPEC Channel 12 and the Community Action Program, are made available to needy families each holiday season.

"Our agency is about helping people who don't get anything for the holidays and we try to reach them. We don't want people to do without during the holiday season," said Mary Allen, Community Specialist I, Community Action Program.

The Alzheimer's Association cares for those afflicted with all types of memory loss and confusion with the structured activity program at the day care center each Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., in the Fellowship Hall of Good Shepherd Church of God. The program opened its doors to the community last Friday and welcomed visitors and participants' family members to enjoy a "trouble free" Thanksgiving meal, prepared by the patients, volunteers, and staff members of the center.

"The Thanksgiving meal was a concept developed by the staff members in another center in 1989 to help families afflicted with Alzheimer's disease have a good holiday without some of the worries that can be experienced at home or in a restaurant. We have them join us in our totally accepting environment where we only expect people to be totally themselves," said Mark Cornett, Manager of Administrative Services for the Alzheimer's Association. "We are grateful to the Community Action Program for helping us achieve that goal this year," said Cornett.

Anyone interested in obtaining information about the Alzheimer's Association or its local programming can contact the staff members at 924-7283, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

CRUSADER CORNER

Several classes have been experiencing the wonder of metamorphosis unfold before their eyes as they visit Daycare, K-5, and fourth grade classrooms. These classes have been home to Butterfly Garden, a kit that houses five caterpillars as they eat, grow, and spin silk, form chrysalids, then allows them to develop into butterflies in a see-through box. The butterflies have now been released but the students will surely remember this remarkable event forever.

On Wednesday, Nov. 24, the Daycare and third grades enjoyed a Pilgrim Indian Feast while dressed in Pilgrim or Indian costumes. The menu was vegetable soup, prepared by Sue Vulgamore, and each child contributed a vegetable for this delicious meal. Many thanks to Mrs. Vulgamore for her help.

The first graders recited "Indian Children" in chapel last week and also presented this acoustic for what Thanksgiving means to them: T is for THANKS for all we have. H is for HAPPY HEARTS

BGE students attend Math Fair

Once again the Newspaper Club is writing. During a recent meeting, the members brainstormed the word, "Thanksgiving" by doing an acoustic activity. This is what they came up with:

T - Turkey, plump and juicy
H - Harvest, fresh and delicious
A - Applesauce, yum! yum!
N - November, chilly, cool
K - Kitchen smells M-M-M!
S - Special day for getting together
G - Grateful
I - Indians, native Americans
V - Vacation much deserved
I - Inviting guests to dinner
N - National holiday
G - Give thanks for all that we have.

Belle Glade Elementary held a Flag Retirement Ceremony on Nov. 10. The purpose of the ceremony was to properly retire an old flag. Members of the Safety Patrol took turns cutting the flag into strips and making short speeches before placing Old Glory in a fire. The fifth grade students participated in the ceremony. Mrs. Suzanne Munter, kindergarten teacher, and Mr. David Dewaele, music teacher, directed the ceremony.

The Area Math Fair was held at the Wellington Mall on Nov. 18-20. Belle Glade Elementary School was represented with 12 entries. These entries were the winning projects from our school math fair.

We are proud to announce that the following projects placed in the Area Math Fair:

2nd place in 2nd grade projects: Mrs. Leo's class

Project name: "Pumpkin Problems"

3rd place in 3rd grade projects: Mrs. Endelman's classes

Project name: "Our Favorite Sandwiches"

3rd place in 5th grade projects: The committee composed of Edward Rhodes, Andrew Stewart, Elijah Smith, and Harvey Lester from Mrs. Dermond's math classes and the Teachers of Tomorrow Club.

We are very pleased to have had these winners from the Math Fair where there were many hundreds of entries.

A is for AMERICA, our great country.

Help others when you order Cable TV this holiday season.

Dear Neighbor:

There is an old proverbial saying, "I expect to pass through this world but once; any good thing therefore that I can do, or any kindness that I can show to any fellow creature, let me do it now..." What an appropriate thought during this season of giving. Especially at a time when countless people among us are in need.

At CVI, we're more than just a provider of Cable TV service. We're a friend in the communities we serve. Every year, in 18 states across the country, in towns similar to ours, we join forces with local charities to help people in need. Together, we collect toys for children, canned goods for the homeless, and so much more.

This holiday season please join us in the spirit of giving. Make a contribution toward our holiday drive and help those in our community who are less fortunate. When you do, we'll return the favor with a special installation offer.

Sincerely yours,

John Kragh

US 27

I see they're almost finished with four laning U.S. 27 south to the Broward line. I can't believe that maybe they are really going to finish this two lane into four-lane. Do you know when the completion date for the remaining work is, and also, is the speed limit going to be 65?

Editor's note: We spoke with Dennis McCarthy, chairman of the Canal Hazard Safety Committee. He said the Department of Transportation is giving a date of 1996 for the completion of four-laning U.S. 27 south to the Broward County line. He believes it will probably be 1997 or 1998 before all work is finished. Also, as to your last question, only interstate highways are designated 65-miles-per-hour, therefore, U.S. 27's speed limit will remain 55.

What's being monitored?

This is in response to Public Safety Director Michael Miller's response in Speak Out pertaining to the speeding on Avenue E. Just exactly which speed sign do they monitor, the 35, the 20, or the 15? They're all down there.

Chief Miller responded, "Martin Luther King Blvd., also known as Avenue E, is a major east-west artery highway. Along this route there are three speed zones, 20 miles-per-hour in the school zone, 25 miles-per-hour in the residential areas with heavy pedestrian traffic, and 35 miles-per-hour in the commercial area. All these areas are very clearly marked."

Chief Miller invites this person to call him at 996-7251 if they have any more questions on this issue.

Disabled and elderly need help

I'm calling about one of last week's Speak Outs, the one who called Pahokee "Trash Can City." I'm wondering if these people are aware that there are some older and disabled people who can't move their garbage cans back from the curbside? I was wondering if this person would volunteer their time to take these people's garbage cans back and forth for them, if not, I would like to know what these people are supposed to do.

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:

Hats off to Glennie Davis for her letter you printed in your so-called newspaper's edition of November 4, 1993.

Mrs. Davis' letter expressed my sentiments. I am not so much interested in your "cartoons," but I do believe anyone who wishes to be heard in your "Speak Out" section should sign their name.

After 50 years in the newspaper business, if you want to be heard — sign your name.

Editorially,

Iz Nachman

A Glades area resident and taxpayer

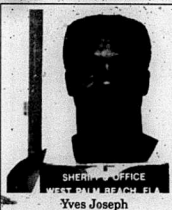

Editor's note: Mr. Nachman is a well-respected former newsmen in the Glades who retired over 10 years ago.

Many things have changed in the news business over the past few years and Speak Out or "Sound Off" columns have become very popular in many newspapers.

Speak Out is a very well-read section of our opinion page each week. Granted, it's not favored by some, especially governmental officials, but it gives the common person, who feel they might suffer retribution if they used their name and those who feel they have something to say but aren't good at putting it on paper a place to be heard. Speak Out is more closely monitored than any other part of The Sun, and we try to be responsible in editing and giving the other side. As in letters to the editor, calls will not be printed if they are libelous, slanderous or obscene.

The people of the Glades are thankful for the richness of the soil, that helps to provide our lifeline.

An open letter of the people of the Everglades Agricultural Area

Only a few weeks ago, the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) looked like the death knell of Florida agriculture. Despite soothing words from Washington, Florida farm communities knew that NAFTA would open America's borders almost overnight to low-wage, poorly regulated agricultural products from Mexico. That is why so many of us in the EAA opposed NAFTA. It is why we wrote our members of Congress and our Senators. It is why we held demonstrations, including one on the National Capitol steps.

It is why we told anyone who would listen what we knew so well — that the deal was bad, not just for the EAA, but for all Florida agriculture.

In the last two weeks the Clinton Administration finally heard our voices.

The Administration announced that it had made major changes in the provisions of NAFTA that concern Florida farmers — the citrus, vegetable and sugar sections.

Thanks to these changes, Florida farmers are now guaranteed that Mexican imports of these products will not unfairly displace citrus, vegetable and sugar sections.

Thanks to these changes, Florida farmers are now guaranteed that Mexican imports of these products will not unfairly displace citrus, vegetables and sugar grown in Florida.

Because of these guarantees, on behalf of U.S. Sugar I began considering endorsing NAFTA.

The endorsement did not come immediately, however...not until it was clear that most of Florida agriculture — including citrus and vegetable farmers throughout the state — felt satisfied with the new NAFTA protections.

Only after many talks with farmers around the state and careful study of the new provisions did U.S. Sugar support NAFTA.

Is NAFTA perfect? No.

But if we in Florida agriculture had not worked with the Administration in fixing our problems with it and it had passed in its original form, NAFTA could have been a disaster for every farm family in the state.

As it is now, whatever way today's NAFTA vote goes, Florida agriculture will be a winner.

All the letters and phone calls to Congress, all our demonstrations, all our efforts have paid off. Washington heard the voice of the people of the EAA. Washington heard the cry for fairness from Florida farm families. It was a long, hard fight, but in the end, Washington saw that we were right.

Everyone who worked for fairness for Florida farmers under NAFTA can be proud. All Florida farm families have won.

We all owe a big thanks to Florida Agriculture Commissioner Bob Crawford, Congressman Tom Lewis and all our elected representatives in Washington who stood with the people of Florida agriculture every step of the way.

And if you helped by writing a letter, making a phone call or attending a rally, on behalf of everyone in our community, thank you. We have all won a great victory.

J. Nelson Fairbanks
President and Chief Executive Officer
United States Sugar Corporation

Why I supported the NAFTA agreement

By Congressman Alcee L. Hastings
23rd District of Florida

After intense deliberation and study, I decided to vote for NAFTA. In the days leading up to my decision I walked as in a haze on the edge of the precipice, knowing that to fall might very well be the end of my short political career. But I know with great certainty that to oppose the pact would have devastated the Clinton presidency, the Democratic party, many of my constituents, and the future of the United States.

Several factors led to my decision. First of all, the majority of my constituents who called and sent letters supported the pact. Secondly, I believe the expansion of our market is essential for the prosperity of our country. Thirdly, combining the North American continent into one trading block will give much-needed clout to the General Agreement on Trade and Tariffs (GATT) agreement. The fourth reason is that history has proven that isolationism is detrimental to this country.

It is also inconceivable to me that all of the living presidents from both parties, many notable economists from both parties, former secretaries of state from both parties, and many of the current elected officials would support a policy which is harmful to the United States.

Looking directly at the needs of my district, NAFTA in its current form is a positive development. The 23rd District is made up largely of agribusiness, urban sprawl, and is the bedroom community for IBM, Motorola, Bell South, AT&T, American concerns of the citrus, winter vegetables and sugar growers satisfied, support for the pact among agricultural producers is solid. The payroll of one sugar grower alone in my district is over $200 million per year. Protecting this company will save the jobs of many of my constituents who are on their payroll. Many employees of big business are behind the pact, realizing that if their employers gain by the pact, they also stand to gain.

After I, along with many other members, expressed my concern about the plight of dislocated workers, the administration increased funding for re-training from $90 million to $140 million. This level of caring for the American labor force has convinced me that President Clinton will work with me to protect the trucking industry, the Teamsters Union, and other labor organizations, groups which I fear might be adversely affected by the pact.

I also call on this administration to continue to protect the Caribbean basin and push the Mexican government to guarantee that environmental protections as well as labor and political reforms are undertaken.

I understand the concerns of those opposed to NAFTA. I believe, however, that NAFTA will create many more jobs than it will destroy. And I feel confident that the six-month safety net will be used by Congress to withdraw the United States from NAFTA should my concerns not be met and if our economy, environment, health, or sovereignty be threatened.

HEADACHES

Also called sick headaches, a typical migraine attack, begins with a dull throbbing ache in one area of the head and progresses to a piercing pain. These tortuous attacks may be preceded by a change in the field of vision - a flickering before the eyes, flashes of light or a partial blocking of the vision. They are sometimes accompanied by nausea or vomiting. They are seldom relieved by aspirin. Their duration is from 2 to 48 hours.

Cranberries

An Experience In Tradition And Innovation

(NU)—Cranberries have a strong holiday tradition in America, bringing a unique taste to holiday sauces and relishes, and bright color to strings of popcorn strung around the Christmas tree. But recently, the holiday berry has extended its role beyond seasonal classics to contemporary everyday cuisine.

Today's innovative chefs are using the cranberry's rich, crimson color and its distinct, tart flavor throughout the year to brighten salads, sauces, marinades, desserts and beverages. Cranberries make it easy to bring the color and flavor of the berry to the dinner table on Christmas Day and every day.

- Top gingerbread with warm whole-berry cranberry sauce and a dollop of whipped cream.
- Mix fresh or frozen cranberries into pumpkin muffin or bread batter.
- Mix a dash of hazelnut liqueur and some crushed nuts into whole-berry cranberry sauce for a delightful turkey topper.
- Make Minnies the toast of your next celebration—mix cranberry juice cocktail with champagne.
- Stir cranberry sauce into whipped cream cheese and spread over warm toast or bagels.

Cranberry Pumpkin Roll (Makes 10-12 servings)

- 5 eggs, separated
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup pumpkin
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1/4 cup cornstarch

- 1 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 tsp. nutmeg
- 1/2 tsp. allspice
- 2 tsp. baking powder
- 3 cups non-dairy whipped topping
- 1 12-oz. package CRAN FRUIT
- Cranberry Raspberry Crushed Fruit for Chicken
- Powdered sugar
- Paper doily

Preheat oven to 375°F. Using an electric mixer, beat egg whites in a medium mixing bowl until stiff peaks form. Set aside. Combine egg yolks, sugar and pumpkin in a separate mixing bowl. Add remaining dry ingredients, mixing well. Gently mix egg whites into batter using a rubber scraper, until no streaks remain.

Line a jellyroll pan with foil and spray with nonstick vegetable spray. Spread batter evenly in pan. Bake for 12 minutes or until a toothpick inserted into the center of the cake comes out clean.

Liberal sprinkle powdered sugar over a clean kitchen towel. Turn the jellyroll out onto the towel and carefully remove foil. Trim off any crisp edges. Roll the cake up in the towel, jellyroll style. Cool completely.

Unroll the cake. Spread non-dairy whipped topping over cake. Drop tablespoons of crushed fruit over whipped topping. Gently spread with a rubber scraper. Roll cake without towel. Lay doily on roll and sprinkle with powdered sugar. Transfer to serving plate.

A Baker's Dozen Of Better Baking With Butter Basics

The Land O'Lakes Holiday Bakeline receives thousands of calls each holiday season from bakers "kneading" a helping hand. Many callers have questions about baking with butter. The following are a few butter basics for better baking offered by the Bakeline.

Butter Basics

1. While baking, use butter to provide best flavor, tenderness and flakiness.
2. Do not use low-fat spreads, which have a higher moisture content than butter, when making cookies because the dough will become too soft and cookies will be less tender.
3. To soften butter, let stand at room temperature for 30 to 45 minutes. Or,

- place one stick in parchment wrapper or remove foil wrapper and place on plate in microwave. Microwave on "defrost" for 30 to 40 seconds, checking and turning every 10 seconds.
4. Be careful not to over-soften butter because dough will become too soft and cause cookies to spread.
5. Land O'Lakes does not recommend using whipped butter when baking; stick butter is best.
6. To protect its delicate flavor, butter should be stored in its original carton or in a covered container in the coldest part of refrigerator. Do not store butter in "butter keeper" on the refrigerator door.

7. Butter can be frozen in its original protective carton for up to four months.

Befuddled Bakers

Call Bakeline

Q: "I like my cookies crisp. Do you have any suggestions for my baking?"

A: Using butter in your holiday cookie recipes makes cookies crisp and delicious.

Q: "Why do my cookies spread?"

A: Butter may be too soft; try refrigerating dough until well-chilled. Also, be sure to cool and clean cookie sheets between batches.

Q: "When using unsalted butter, should I add salt to my recipe?"

A: Unsalted butter may be substituted for salted butter in any recipe. It is not necessary to add salt.

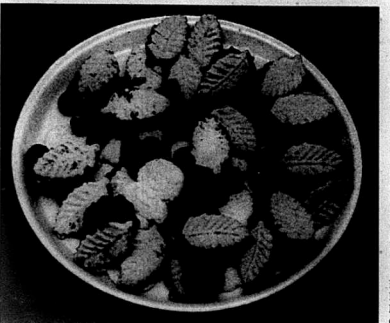

Q: "Help! I need to quickly soften my frozen butter. The Girl Scout troop arrives for cookie baking soon."

A: To quickly soften frozen butter, cut into small chunks and let stand 15 to 30 minutes at room temperature.

Q: The butter I was softening for cookie dough melted; what should I do?

A: If butter is inadvertently melted when softening, use it for another purpose, such as sautéing, or toss it in with vegetables or pasta.

Traditional Rocky Road Fudge

Creamy chocolate fudge is an all-American favorite during the holiday season—try this extra-special version filled with peanuts and marshmallows.

4 cups sugar

- 1/2 cup LAND O'LAKES* butter

Cheese Sparks Holiday Meals

(NU)—Holiday hosts and hostesses, usually short on time, are always in need of quick, delicious entertaining ideas.

Count on cheese to help ease your entertaining efforts this season. Keep plenty of cheese on hand for easy-to-prepare platters, pasta sauces, salads and make-ahead dishes.

"Bel Paese is a semi-soft cheese with a smooth, creamy taste and texture that's been a worldwide favorite for 50 years," says Valerie Dominioni, author of Great Italian Cooking.

In addition to the original Bel Paese, there are three new versions: one with sun-dried tomatoes and basil, a "lite" with 33 percent less fat than the original, and Lite Bel Paese Primavera, a reduced-fat, low-cholesterol cheese with fresh garden vegetables.

Properly wrapped and refrigerated, these cheeses last at least three months, so they're perfect to have on hand for last-minute guests. Before serving, let the cheese stand at room temperature for about 30 minutes to develop its rich flavor. Remove the wax coating and moist, white crust from the cheese before eating or cooking.

For a free recipe booklet, write Cucina Classica Italiana, Dept. NU, 1935 Swarthmore Ave., Lakewood, NJ 08701. To order Great Italian Cooking, which features authentic Italian recipes featuring cheese, send a check or money order for $9.95 plus $1.85 shipping and handling to: Cookbook, Dept. NU, P.O. Box 555, Brick, NJ 08723. (New Jersey residents add six percent sales tax.)

Roasting A Whole Turkey—As Simple As 1-2-3

Turkey is one of today's best meat buys, both nutritionally and economically. Whole turkeys are sold oven-ready: dressed, washed, inspected and packaged. After turkeys leave the processing plant, no hands touch them until time for kitchen preparation.

A defrosted whole turkey requires only six minutes to prepare for roasting (without stuffing).

If stuffing is desired, we suggest it be prepared separately, placed in a covered casserole and cooked with turkey during the last hour of roasting time. For those whose Thanksgiving is not complete without stuffing the turkey, follow these directions:

Spoon prepared dressing loosely into body and neck cavities of turkey just prior to roasting. The stuffing should reach an internal temperature of 160 to 165 degrees to be sufficiently cooked. Remove stuffing from turkey immediately after roasting.

Follow label instructions for stuffing, or use these simple directions to make a beautiful golden-brown, ready-to-eat-and-eat turkey.

Thawing
DO NOT THAW POULTRY AT ROOM TEMPERATURE. Leave turkey in original packaging and use one of the following methods:

- No hurry: Place wrapped turkey on tray in refrigerator for 3 to 4 days; allow 5 hours per pound of turkey to completely thaw.

- Fastest: Place wrapped turkey in sink and cover with cold water. Allow about 1/2 hour per pound of turkey to completely thaw. Change water frequently.
- Refrigerate or cook turkey when it is thawed. Refrigerating uncooked turkey is not recommended.
- Commercially frozen stuffed turkeys should NOT be thawed before roasting.

Preparation For Roasting
All equipment and materials used for storage, preparation and serving of poultry must be clean. Wash hands thoroughly with hot soapy water before and after handling raw poultry. Use hard plastic or acrylic cutting boards to prepare poultry.

Remove plastic wrapping from thawed turkey. Remove giblets and neck from the body and neck cavities. To remove neck, it may be necessary to release legs from hank of skin or wire hook lock. Rinse turkey inside and out with cool water, pat dry with a paper towel and turn legs to hook lock, hank of skin or tie loosely. Tuck tips of wings "akimbo" under back of turkey. Neck skin should be skewered with a poultry pin or round toothpick to back of turkey to provide a nice appearance for serving at table. The turkey is now completely ready for roasting to a delicious golden brown.

Open Pan Roasting
Place turkey, breast side up, on fat rack in shallow roasting pan, about 2 inches deep. Insert meat thermometer deep into thickest part of thigh next to body, not touching bone.

Brush turkey skin with vegetable oil to prevent drying. Turkey is done when meat thermometer registers 180 to 185 degrees and drumstick is soft and moves easily at the joint.

When skin of turkey is golden brown, shield breast loosely with rectangular piece of lightweight foil to prevent over-browning.

Start Some New Christmas Traditions

Traditions and Christmas go hand in hand. We all enjoy these annual rituals that provide a sense of community and continuity from year to year. Here are some ideas for new traditions you may want to include this year.

At Home

- Include one of every family member's favorite foods in the Christmas meal. Who says pizza can't be served alongside the turkey?
- Host a Christmas Eve afternoon tea "pollock." You supply the fragrant, gourmet coffee and tea and your favorite homebaked treat, and ask each guest to bring one of his or her favorite homebaked goodies, also.
- Have a "traveling dinner" with family and friends. Drinks and hors d'oeuvres at one house, main course at another, and so on.
- Try an "international" Christmas—learn the customs and traditional foods of other countries and adopt a few of them for your celebration this year.
- Start a collection of Christmas china and dishes, then add a new piece each year.
- Start a Christmas scrapbook—paste in photos, pieces of your favorite wrapping paper, bows, Christmas cards, etc. Make notes in the book, too. Each year, add to your scrapbook and read notes aloud on Christmas Eve.
- Video tape or audiotape family members during the Christmas celebration. Send it to faraway family or save it for reminiscing.
- Give a special ornament, labeled and dated, to each family member.
- As a family, visit local pageants, special performances, sing-alongs, tree-lighting ceremonies, etc.
- Choose a charity and make a contribution in your family's name.
- Visit a nursing home on Christmas Eve or Christmas Day. Many nursing home residents have no family to share the holidays with—share yours with someone who is lonely.
- Take family walks in your neighborhood to look at Christmas lights.
- If you traditionally don't open presents until Christmas morning, choose just one present to open Christmas night, or open your Christmas stocking.
- Have an "undecorating party" to help mitigate the after-holidays lull. People will have more time now with the Christmas rush behind them, and will enjoy an informal afternoon or evening leisurely undecorating the tree and house. Make it simple—just serve finger foods and light snacks.

At The Office

- Gather up the gang and go caroling from office to office in your building, or go after work.
- Decorate and donate a tree to a family who might otherwise not have one.
- Welcome in the holidays with co-workers with an in-office luncheon buffet. Sign everyone up to bring a favorite food, drink or decoration.
- Adopt a needy family now for the entire year.
- Delegate! Have the kids and other family members help run errands, pick up supplies, clean the house, etc. Don't try to do it all yourself.
- Along the same lines, cheerfully accept when guests offer to bring something to the party.
- Give yourself an hour and a half before the party to relax and get ready.
- Free yourself from bartending chores with a self-service bar. Set and dishes of mints, nuts, etc., on tables and muntis throughout the entertaining area.
- Keep decorating simple, too. One easy way to add ambience as well as fragrance is to put lots of candles in safe places throughout the party area.

Sweet Treats Can Be Festive And Easy

(NU)—Everyone loves sweets, especially during the holidays. And there's no more festive choice than traditional gingerbread.

Whether you're a "from-scratch" or "by-box" baker, try a new twist on tradition this year—mini gingerbread-boy cakes. Each 3x5-inch cake is an individual serving.

Quick and simple to prepare, the cakes bake four at a time in a special pan. A packaged mix makes 12 to 16, or Santa's Favorite Gingerbread makes a dozen spicy, fragrant little cakes which can be baked ahead, then stored in the freezer. Decorating is extra easy, too. The Mini Gingerbread-Boy Pan leaves indentations for the eyes, nose, mouth and buttons. Beginners can decorate with buttercream icing in zigzags, dots and stars or use candy-coated chocolates for eyes and raisins for buttons.

The Mini Gingerbread-Boy Pan ($7.99) is available where Wilton products are sold, and can also be ordered through Wilton, 2240 W. 75th St., Woodridge, IL 60517, or by calling 1-708-963-7100.

Try "Mocktails" This Holiday Season

(NU)—Make your cup of cheer nonalcoholic this holiday season. Drinking may once have been part and parcel of holiday merriment, but recent emphasis on personal responsibility and sobriety has resulted in more and more alcohol-free parties and social events.

Today, no bar is complete without a plentiful supply of sparkling water, juices, sodas and nonalcoholic potitios and punches.

Consider the following when weighing the advantages of an alcohol-free holiday:

— ACCIDENTS: Alcohol is involved in 50 percent of all fatal car accidents, according to the National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA). More than 22,000 people died in alcohol-related crashes in 1990, says the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

Among teenagers, alcohol-related accidents are particularly serious. About half of U.S. teenagers drink alcohol, and an estimated 3.3 million teenagers are alcoholics. Approximately 10,000 people age 16-24 are killed each year in accidents involving alcohol, including drowning, violent injuries and homicide.

— HEALTH RISKS: Cardiovascular disorders, ranging from heart failure and hypertension to stroke, are associated with chronic alcohol abuse. Alcohol also damages the liver and central nervous system. Pregnant women should avoid alcohol, which has a devastating effect on the baby and can lead to Fetal Alcohol Syndrome.

— SEXUAL ASSAULTS AND CRIME: Alcohol is a factor in 54 percent of all violent crimes and 70 percent of sexual abuse, including rape and incest, says the NIDA. Half the cases of spouse abuse and 40 percent of child abuse deaths were alcohol-related.

Nonalcoholic drinks can be as festive as the season. Mix up some of these refreshing "mocktails" and watch spirits rise without the use of spirits.

(NU)—Santa says, now's the time to make a list and check it twice—a safety list, that is. Many home fires that occur during the holiday season can be prevented if you take the following safety precautions, say the experts at Underwriters Laboratories Inc. (UL).

- Keep light strings and other electrical decorations out of children's reach.
- Look for the UL mark on light strings. Artificial trees should also carry the UL mark—that means samples have been tested for flammability.
- Check each light set for broken or cracked sockets, frayed or bare wires and loose connections.
- Overloading circuits with too many decorative lights and/or light strings can cause fires.
- Check markings on light strings. Never use decorative lights marked "For Indoor Use" outdoors.
- Always turn off tree lights before leaving home or going to bed. A short circuit can cause a fire.
- To prevent overheating or damage, use only decorative lamp features packaged with each string. Use only manufacturer's specified fuses and lamps when old ones burn out.
- Make sure your tree is fresh when you buy it. If the needles are brown and break off easily, the tree is a greater fire risk. Keep your tree-base holder filled with water at all times.
- Place your tree away from a fireplace, radiator and other heat sources. Be sure it doesn't block a doorway.

- Don't cut or damage wire insulation when installing decorative light strings.
- Throw away gift wrappings immediately. Don't burn them in the fireplace—they can ignite suddenly and cause a flash fire. Burning evergreens in a fireplace is also dangerous—they can cause flames to flare out of control and send sparks flying around a room.
- Equip your home with UL-listed smoke detectors and an ABC-type fire extinguisher. They make good stocking stuffers.

Safety First

Christmas is a joyful, festive time of year, but the spirit of the season will be lost if you're careless. The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission offers the following safety tips:

Trees

- Make sure artificial trees are fire-resistant.
- Place fresh trees away from fireplaces, radiators and other heat sources.
- Cut off about two inches of the trunk for better water absorption.
- Trim away branches as necessary to set tree trunk securely in the base of a sturdy, water-holding stand.
- Whether artificial or fresh, place trees out of the way of traffic.

Lights

- Use only lights identified as having been tested for safety by an independent testing laboratory.
- Check both new and old sets of lights for broken or cracked sockets, frayed or bare wires or loose connections. Discard or repair damaged sets.
- Don't use more than three standard-size sets of lights per single extension cord.
- Turn off all lights on trees and other decorations before going to bed or leaving the house.
- Never use electric lights on a metallic tree; rather, use colored spotlights above or beside a tree—never out of the way of traffic.

Candles

- Don't "bubble" lights away from children. With their bright colors and bubbling movement, these lights can tempt curious children who may break them and be injured by glass or by drinking the hazardous liquid inside.
- Securely fasten outdoor lights to guard against wind damage.
- Be sure to keep candles away from other decorations and wrapping paper.
- Place candles where they are not in danger of being knocked or blown over.

Trimming

- Use only non-combustible or fire-resistant materials.
- Never place trimmings near candles, fireplaces or electrical connections.
- Wear gloves while decorating with spun glass "angel hair" to protect eyes and skin.
- Use tinseled or artificial icicles of plastic or non-leaded metals.

Fabulous Fruitcake For The Holidays

Fruitcake often has a bad reputation, but that is about to change. Make this fruitcake, and people will just rave about your wonderful baking talents.

Silver and Gold Fruitcake

1 pkg. (16 oz.) pound cake mix

2/3 cup lemonade

2 large eggs

1/2 cup mixed green and red candied cherries

1/2 cup chopped mixed nuts

1/2 cup golden raisins

1/2 cup orange-flavored liqueur or orange juice

2 pgs. (16 oz. each) vanilla-flavored candy melting wafers or 20 oz. white chocolate

1/3 cup light cream syrup

Shelled and unshelled nuts covered with mix and with silver and gold foil (see note at end)

Mix as cake package label directs; stir in cherries, chopped nuts and raisins. Pour into prepared pan. Bake one hour or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool cake in pan on wire rack 15 minutes. Remove pan; slide completely. Remove foil. Brush cake with liqueur or orange juice. Wrap in cheesecloth and then foil. Refrigerate at least two days or several weeks before decorating.

Unwrap cake. Place on serving plate and let come to room temperature. Meanwhile, in top of double boiler placed over simmering (not boiling) water, melt candy wafers, stirring often. Remove from heat and stir in cream syrup just until blended. Set aside.

Line two large baking sheets with foil. On foil on one baking sheet, spread three-fourths of melted candy mixture. Cover with sheet of waxed paper; roll into 14x12-inch rectangle. On second baking sheet, spread remaining mixture; cover with waxed paper. Roll into a 9-inch round. Refrigerate until firm. Remove waxed paper sheets; with sharp knife, cut two 14x12-inch strips from candy rectangle, cutting through foil. Place one strip, foil side out, around side of cake; remove foil. Repeat with remaining candy strip, trimming strip to fit. With hands, press strips around cake. Place candy round, foil side out, on cake top. Remove foil; with tip of warm knife, smooth seams. With small knife, cut out leaves from remaining candy strip. If necessary, remove scraps to make additional leaves. Roll small pieces of candy mixture into berries. Arrange leaves, berries and nuts on cake. If desired, decorate with gold and silver decorations.

Makes about 16 servings.

Note: Wafers are edible gold and silver leaf, available at East Indian grocery stores. To use wafers to cover shelled and unshelled nuts: Place wafers on work surface, remove covering tissue. Brush nut with lightly beaten egg white. Without touching wafers with hands, use knife tip to roll nuts in wafer until coated. Use tweezers or chopsticks to move nuts.

Making Less More This Holiday Season

By Teresa A. Langston
Founder, Parenting Without Pressure Workshops

The holiday season is a wonderful time of year. It is a special time for enjoying our family and friends and celebrating traditions. However, it can also be a time for unrelenting stress and incredible exhaustion.

If you find that you are missing the celebration of the holiday in the preparation for it, make a firm commitment to do things differently this year.

For example, a common mistake made by many is that too much time and energy is consumed trying to recreate the perfect Norman Rockwell holiday. You remember the one—the house is beautifully decorated, the numerous presents are exquisitely wrapped, the holiday meal is prepared to perfection and the rested and relaxed family has time to go caroling in the snow. All of these things sound great. But they might not be applicable or even relevant to your family today.

The trick is to identify those things that are important to your family and develop holiday traditions that are uniquely your own. A tradition is simply a family ritual that celebrates the family and sets it apart. For instance, a holiday tradition for your family might be the time and way you open Christmas or Hanukkah presents, preparing Grandma Tate's sweet potato casserole or attending Christmas Eve church services.

Because traditions have a way of becoming entrenched simply because "that's the way we have always done it," hold a family meeting to discuss those things which are important to your family today. Then work hard on eliminating everything else.

Once your family has accomplished this, make a list of those important things and then delegate, delegate, delegate.

For example, if your family decides that sending Christmas cards is something it wants to continue, make it a family project. As a family, write a Christmas letter and then have Mom and Dad address the envelopes and the kids put on the stamps.

If you enjoy getting all the extended family together for a holiday meal, ask family members to bring a dish. This year, have someone else prepare Grandma Tate's sweet potato casserole.

Also important during the holidays is to pace yourself and conserve your energy. By keeping things to a minimum and as simple as possible, you are free to stop and enjoy those precious moments of the season.

This year, make a gift list and consider ordering some of these items from Christmas catalogs. And then ask the older kids to wrap your Christmas or Hanukkah presents.

Instead of spending endless hours in the kitchen, allow someone else to do all or part of your holiday baking. This year, purchase pretty holiday tins and fill them with treats and Christmas goodies from your favorite bakery.

Also, learn to say, "no." Just because you have been responsible for refreshments for the school holiday program the past three years does not mean you have to do it this year.

And during the week try to limit the number of activities your family participates in thus allowing for decompression from the hectic holiday pace. Instead of hitting the mall every night or attending one more party, rent the video "It's A Wonderful Life" and watch it together, take a family walk and look at the Christmas lights in your neighborhood, or even allow for some quiet family time where everyone spends an hour reading his or her favorite book.

Finally, as a family, work on keeping your focus on the true meaning of the season. The love, peace and joy of the holiday season are not found in the immaculate house, the elaborate holiday meal or the numerous presents under the tree, but in the giving of ourselves to others. Consider a family project like packing food baskets for needy families, visiting shut-ins or serving Christmas breakfast in a soup kitchen. For in these things is where you'll find the true miracle and celebration of Christmas.

Forget fads and get back to basics. Reducing fat in your diet doesn't have to mean depriving yourself; it simply means making sensible food choices.

Overweight, a major health problem facing our nation, contributes to the incidence of heart disease and diabetes. The key to weight control is maintaining a balance of energy intake (calories) to energy output (physical activity).

To select the right balance of foods, follow these dietary guidelines established by the U.S. Department of Agriculture:

- Eat a variety of foods.
- Maintain your fat level especially. Avoid too much fat, especially saturated fat, and cholesterol.
- Eat an adequate amount of starch and fiber.
- Avoid sugar.
- Avoid sodium.
- If you choose to consume alcohol, do so in moderation.

Burn It Off With Physical Activity

Saying fit has become the American pastime while achieving the goal has become increasingly more difficult. Advanced technology has contributed to Americans becoming more sedentary. A fast-paced lifestyle has promoted eating foods which may be high in calories.

Physical activity will shape your body and mind to live while achieving the goal.

Easy Packing Tips For Holiday Travelers

(NU)—Packing for a trip—always a chore—can be even more of a headache during the bustle and bustle of the holidays. But it doesn't have to be, especially if you prepare in advance and pack wisely. Here are a few tips:

1. Pack only what you can easily carry, and look for luggage with comfortable carry handles, adjustable/removable shoulder straps and numerous pockets.
2. If you are packing for an extended trip, search for a large suitcase with wheels, making transporting your luggage easier. American Tourist's innovative Easy Turn Tracking System provides unprecedented maneuverability, virtually eliminating tipping.
3. Make a checklist of what you need and assemble all items before packing.
